

A Woman's Health

Every woman's health is particularly dependent upon the condition of her blood. In the back, poor appetite, weakness, a constant feeling of weariness, pallor and nervousness, if you are any of these, you are in need of getting better, but begin now, to build up your blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. See how the nervous system becomes pure and red and the system is strengthened to meet every demand upon it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are used by all women, but they are particularly valuable to girls of school age who show symptoms of going into a decline, who become pale, nervous and languid. They aid in securing perfect development of the body, and building up the system during the growing years of life. Girls who are thin, who have pale and hollow cheeks, who are not bright, who are neither healthy nor beautiful, who are of blood which gives brightness to the face and color to cheeks and lips.

Write now to Dr. Williams' Medical Book Co., 233 North Second St., for two beautiful booklets, "Pink Pills for Women" and "Building Up the Blood."

SMUGGLED OVER THE BORDER.

Immigration Inspector Declares the Japs Enter in Great Numbers—Favors Census of Asiatics Here.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Japanese are being smuggled over the border in as great numbers as are Chinese or Hindus, Roger O'Donnell, special immigration inspector, today told the House Immigration Committee.

He said ninety-six Japanese had been deported during the last six months for having illegally entered the country.

"That ought to put some head lines on the Japanese immigration problem," said Representative Moore of Pennsylvania, who characterized the inspector's remarks as an attempt to "terrorize the Pacific Coast."

Representative Hayes of California said orders to "soft pedal" discussion of the Japanese immigration problem made it almost impossible to shut out these aliens.

O'Donnell favored a census of Asiatics and deportation of those found illegally here.

COAST-GUARD BILL. Townsend Measure to Combine Life-Saving and Revenue-Cutter Services Is Favorably Reported.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Favorable report on Senator Townsend's bill to combine the life-saving service and the revenue-cutter service into a coast-guard service was agreed on today by the Senate Commerce Committee.

The new guard would constitute part of the military forces of the country operating under the Treasury Department in peace and as part of the navy in war. Provisions for retirement in the revenue-cutter service would be extended to the life-saving service.

The committee decided also to favorably report Senator Bankhead's bill for four new revenue cutters.

RECEIVES POWER RENTAL. Secretary of the Interior Lane Gets First Results from His Recently Devised Policy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The Interior Department received today the first payments for power rentals under the form of power permits recently granted by Secretary Lane.

They were in the form of two checks from water-power companies in Nevada and Montana, aggregating more than $400.

In a statement the department says the receipt of the money is of interest because it illustrates the working of the policy recently set forth by Secretary Lane—that of developing the water power of the west in such a way as to benefit the public generally as well as the local community.

SENATE AND HOUSE AT WORK ON WILSON'S IDEAS.

Administration's Legislative Programme Is Now the Principal Matter for Consideration with the Interstate Trade Commission Bill Holding the Right of Way.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Efforts of Senate and House committees today were turned toward perfecting as soon as possible the administration's anti-trust legislative programme.

The Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce held its first hearing on the proposed bill to create an interstate trade commission and amendments to limit the scope of that commission and to make it a purely advisory and investigating body were submitted by Senator Newlands, chairman of the committee.

Hearings were held before the House Judiciary and Interstate Commerce committees with relation to legislation to regulate holding companies, and shortening of judicial procedure under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Amendments to the interstate trade commission bill prepared by Senator Newlands, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, who conferred with President Wilson on the subject yesterday, were submitted to the committee today.

One amendment would limit the jurisdiction of the proposed commission to corporations "having annual gross receipts exceeding $2,500,000," and would make it optional with the commission whether it should demand records of corporations' affairs.

Another amendment would protect corporations from unreasonable or unnecessary publicity.

A third amendment proposed would make it a misdemeanor punishable by fine not to exceed $1000 or a year's imprisonment, or both, for any person "to wilfully make false entry in any book of accounts or records of any corporation," subject to the proposed act.

Provisions of the original bill, empowering the proposed commission to investigate the affairs of corporations, would be considerably changed by other amendments to assure the conduct of all such inquiries according to due process of law and to make the commission purely advisory to the Attorney-General and the courts.

ALMA GLUCK TO WED. Prima Donna Who Warned American Girls of the Temptations of Europe to Marry a Violinist.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.), Feb. 26.—Miss Alma Gluck, the prima donna whose recent statements concerning temptations that surround the American girl seeking musical education in Europe, caused wide discussion, confirmed here today a rumor that she is engaged to marry Effen Zimbalist, Russian violinist. Zimbalist now is touring Russia.

Miss Gluck said the marriage probably would be in June, in London.

Gives Lie to Murphy.

$10,000 contribution which Allan A. Ryan, son of Thomas P. Ryan, the financier, asserted at the witness's impeachment trial he gave to Sulzer and which never was reported in Sulzer's list of contributions. The witness said he gave it to John H. Delaney, now head of the State Bureau of Efficiency and Economy, and that Delaney told him he had given it to Murphy. This was another contribution which, he said, Murphy told him would be listed under the name of a dummy. He also declared that Delaney had kept "for his own campaign expenses" $5000, which he (Sulzer) had given to him to "help out" the Democratic State Committee.

"You will find a lot of dummies on that list put in by the Democratic State Committee," continued the witness, "a lot of men who wouldn't give $1000 to save the Democratic party from going to the demitition row—row."

MAVOY TESTIMONY. Thomas F. McAvoy, called as the next witness, denied that he ever had "given one dollar to the Democratic party that was not my own money."

"I gave from $2500 to $3000 every year to the Democratic party," he said. "How did you happen to have the how I was fixed and my own interest in the campaign?"

George Washington Plunkitt, who also was to be called, failed to respond to his subpoena.

STEEL MAGNATE CONTRIBUTES. Another witness was William J. Sullivan, secretary to James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation. He testified that in 1912, at the request of Farrell, he gave $2500 in cash out of Farrell's personal funds to Arthur A. McLean, treasurer of the Democratic State Committee.

He produced a receipt made out to himself and signed by McLean. "How did you happen to have the receipt made out in your name instead of Farrell's?" the witness was asked.

"It was my own idea," Sullivan said. "I knew Mr. Farrell was the only Democrat in the steel organization and thought that he would prefer not to have his name appear. He was quite exercised over it and told me that there was no reason why I should not be in his name, but to let it go, as it was immaterial."

It was brought out that the contribution was never reported by the Democratic State Committee.

The hearing adjourned until next Monday.

Strikers Destroy Tracks, Blow Up Many Bridges and Interrupt the Wire Communications Throughout the Republic—Train Service Between Lisbon and Madrid Stopped.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) PARIS, Feb. 26.—Railroad communication between Lisbon and the Spanish frontier has been completely cut off by the striking railway men who belong to the revolutionary section of the Socialist party. According to passengers who arrived today from Lisbon, after a journey of 103 hours, instead of the usual thirty-two, the tracks have been destroyed in many places, bridges have been blown up and telegraph and telephone communication has been interrupted throughout Portugal.

The Paris passengers were obliged to transfer six times between Lisbon and the frontier, owing to breaks in the line. The rails in the tunnel near Kabregas have been torn out and a freight train was derailed at the mouth of the tunnel.

A railroad bridge has been blown up by the strikers between Lisbon and Madrid and no train has run in either direction between those cities since Sunday.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for indigestion, dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good Delays Are Dangerous You Risk No Money

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, and we want you to have it.

TODAY and Tomorrow we will hold our second Month-End Clean-Up. With our sales of last month fresh in the minds of all Los Angeles shoppers we deem it hardly necessary to again go into details explanatory of these month-end events. However, to those who did not attend the initial sale we will state that these clean-up sales are no more nor less than the name implies. A clean-up of the previous month's odds and ends, broken lines, small lots and slow goers. It is a means we have adopted to keep our stock up to the highest standard of style and desirability.

Neither cost nor former selling price have been considered in marking these goods. Everything offered will be a bargain so real, so tempting that someone will be eager to take it.

One trial convinced us that the fourth floor was not large enough by half for these sales. We therefore set to work fitting up our splendid basement for the purpose, where hundreds may shop comfortably and conveniently. A sufficient force of experienced salespeople will be on hand to give you every attention.

Doors open at 9 o'clock. Take elevators or short flight of stairs at rear of store. Of course, you'll attend?

Goods bought at this sale positively will not be taken back or exchanged.

FINDS COAL BED IN ANTARCTIC.

Dr. Mawson Says Expedition Was Complete Success.

Greatest Aid Rendered by Wireless Telegraphy.

(BY PACIFIC CABLE)

ADDELARDE (Australia) Feb. 26.—Dr. Douglas Mawson, Australian explorer, returned today from the Antarctic on board the Aurora. He said his expedition had been "entirely successful."

Dr. Mawson declared dredging had yielded the best collection of biological specimens ever obtained in the Antarctic. Many mineral deposits had been exposed, some of them rich.

The original expedition under Dr. Mawson was in 1911, its principal object the exploration and survey of the Antarctic coast line.

Dr. Mawson said that after the loss of his companions, Minnie and Dr. Mawson, he was left alone.

"I had a miraculous escape from starvation," he said. "As I was standing along a snowdrift, I noticed a black spot on the ice. I went toward it and discovered it was a seal. I was able to catch it and eat it."

"I was able, however, to make only one seal, owing to the severity of the weather. So I returned to the ship, and was found there by members of the searching party."

The dredging, which yielded such valuable specimens, was carried out by the use of a special apparatus. The dredge was lowered to a depth of two miles.

The scientific results of the expedition are being presented to the Geological Association of Australia. The expedition was a complete success.

TARIFF GREATLY REDUCED ON SUGAR FROM CUBA.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Louisiana sugar growers lost the second round of their fight to keep up the duty on sugar today when Atty.-Gen. McReynolds handed down an opinion that Cuban sugar is entitled to enter the United States at all times during the life of the present reciprocity treaty, on payment of a duty of 20 per cent. less than other sugars.

The Louisianians contended that there was a conflict in the new tariff law between its reaffirmation of the Cuban reciprocity law, which provides for a 20 per cent. preferential for Cuban sugar, and that part of the law which provides for a general reduction of the duty on sugar of 25 per cent. beginning March 1. They hoped that the Attorney-General would find that there could not be a reaffirmation of the treaty and a reduction in sugar duties.

The Attorney-General's opinion, however, will result in an almost immediate reduction in the rate on Cuban sugar, keeping it at now, 20 per cent. under other sugars. After March 1, Cuban "95 per cent." sugar will be admitted to the United States on payment of a duty of about 1 cent. per pound.

Any further action by the sugar growers probably will be in the Supreme Court. But might be brought to determine judicially the question of conflict on which McReynolds has ruled.

Representative Broussard of Louisiana said tonight that the decision of the Attorney-General would not make any difference in the volume of the sugar business between Cuba and the United States, as this country takes all of Cuba's crop. There is a quantity of Cuban sugar in the bonded warehouses in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and New Orleans, where the refineries are located, being held to await today's decision so as to take advantage of the double reduction, effective next Monday, March 2. It means, he said, a saving of millions of dollars to the American refiners of Cuban sugar.

FIGHT FOR LIFE A MILE HIGH.

BIPLANE ENGINE DIES ABOVE SAN FRANCISCO BAY.

When Aviator Blakley Starts to Flyplane Down His Machine Turns Almost Completely Over, but He Manages to Effect a Spiral Descent and Is Rescued.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—Aviator H. W. Blakley fought for his life 6000 feet above San Francisco Bay today and won. He escaped from his thrilling adventure with nothing worse than a drenching. Blakley was returning from a trip to Cloverdale, eighty-four miles distant, and when over the bay he began to vibrate down. His machine turned almost completely over and at the same instant his engine "went dead."

Blakley managed to maneuver his biplane into a position whereby he was enabled to effect the spiral descent. His predicament was observed by a few shore spectators and the captain of a tug. When within a few hundred feet of the bay waters, the aviator untrapped himself from his seat and prepared for a jump. He leaped just before his machine struck the water. The tug captain rescued Blakley and towed the aeroplane to shore.

SCENTS TROUBLE WITH GERMANY.

STATE OIL MONOPOLY MAY BE BONE OF CONTENTION.

Berlin Correspondent of the "London Daily Mail" Believes the United States Opposes the Reichstag's Project, Which Would "Confiscate" the Standard's Business.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE-EX-CLUSIVE.)

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail says he has reason to believe that Germany and the United States are on the brink of diplomatic difficulties in regard to the impending "confiscation" of the German properties of the Standard Oil Company. A committee of the Reichstag is now discussing the German government's project to create a State monopoly in illuminating oil, which will immediately drive the Standard out of one of its profitable branches.

The correspondent says that as soon as this monopoly is created the Standard Oil's German corporation will be compelled to sell its vast distributing system at a price which will practically be fixed by a government buyer. The correspondent says he understands that the United States regards this proposed project as tantamount to confiscation and illicit interference with the trading rights of Americans in the German market. A situation seems to be brewing similar to that of the potash matter in 1910.

BERLIN, Feb. 26.—The German Foreign Office emphatically denies today a report published in America that Germany had expressed to the State Department in Washington its disapproval of President Wilson's policy in Mexico and had suggested that the United States was making a serious mistake in not recognizing Provisional President Huerta.

Germany, it was pointed out, persists in her attitude of reserve on this subject, leaving the United States to work out its policy toward Mexico, without interference. The German government has, from said, from time to time, when German subjects in Mexico have suffered, protested directly to the government of Mexico and has repeatedly received assistance in obtaining satisfaction through the American Consuls.

Kahn Attacks Wilson Policy of "Deadly Drifting."

Declares President Cannot Additional Murders.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—On debate in the House today on the year's $190,000,000 army appropriation bill, Representative Hay of Virginia, chairman of the Military Committee, declared the measure was essentially one for peace and not for war and that the War Department did not contemplate any increase for a war basis.

Representative Kahn of California followed with an attack on the administration's policy. Citing the president's policy of "deadly drifting," he said that expressed the President's attitude instead of the policy of "watchful waiting."

Kahn expressed the hope that the administration's Marine policy would bring about peace and tranquility in the southern republics, opposing armed intervention. He asserted that the "present policy" of less speedily and speedily would inevitably lead to armed intervention.

Discussing the Marine policy, Kahn said that the president's policy of "deadly drifting" was a policy of "watchful waiting." He said that the president's policy of "deadly drifting" was a policy of "watchful waiting."

Army officers who were under consideration were criticized by Representative Hay of Tennessee.

McKillop said that the president's policy of "deadly drifting" was a policy of "watchful waiting."

The time has come, he said, "when a law should be passed to prohibit the president from making these statements of unpreparedness for war."

NEWS BRIEFS.

The City Council at its next meeting will consider a resolution regulating conduct in the parks and the area. If the ordinance is adopted the public

When Eddie Pullen crashed into the fence. A wonderful photograph taken at the exact moment when Pullen, who was leading the field at an average of eighty-two miles an hour, burst his right front tire on the Nevada-avenue turn and tore head-on into the fence, breaking the spindle of his front axle and being eliminated from the running.

RALPH'S PIT WAS UNUSED.

Vanderbilt Winner Never Went Near It.

But Much Happened There,
Nevertheless.

Helpers Aided Materially
His Victory.

BY AD G. WADDELL.

When Fred J. Wagner dipped the checkered flag in honor of Ralph De Palma, winner of the great Vanderbilt cup race, yesterday, the Mercedes pit crew indulged in a stag tango party.

"Get a black cigar for Tommy," begged George Shillo, one of the pit men.

George Townsend, the New Yorker who helped Ralph with his car.

left the pit on the run and came back with a roll of something which he claimed to be a cigar.

"Tommy must have a cigar," he explained: "if I don't have one for him he will be sore."

"Tommy" was Tommy Alley, the mechanic of De Palma's car.

Moving picture men had their cameras rigged around the three sides of the pit and on the tracks to the rear. Professional and amateur photographers were wedged in on all sides.

That was the end of the long session in the Mercedes pit.

HOW THEY FIGURED.

It was figured in the pit that Barney would cross the tape first, but take second place by less than thirty seconds, as he had started 75 seconds ahead of De Palma.

In the final stages, the Mercedes began to creep ahead and the picture men began to forsake the Mercedes pit for that of the famous old speed king, who was galloping around.

Then it was that some of the hard luck that had been showing up at intervals all day, hit Barney.

He drew up at his pit at the end of the thirty-first lap with a bad tire.

"It's all over now," said Townsend: "if his tires will hold out, Ralph has it. A stop will kill his chances."

Louis Sorrell sat in the disabled Mason's pit on one side and Frank Goode, who had been forced to retire from the race with his Apperson, sat in the pit on the other side.

The unfortunate Mason mechanic

THE Vanderbilt cup, most highly-prized trophy in American motor-dom, remains in the De Palma family.

The great Italian pilot, stuffed with spaghetti and seated serenely in his Mercedes, proved his right to retain this valuable piece of junk when he sent the white torpedo-like car home a winner at Santa Monica yesterday, reeling off 294 miles at the dizzy average of 75.5 an hour for a new record in this event.

This is his second victory in the Vanderbilt classic in as many years, and equals the achievement of Harry Grant in winning two straight.

De Palma drove a great race, a wonderful race and he had good luck.

His generalship was perfect, and plunging around the course at a death-defying speed, he showed no more excitement than a farmer winding an eight-day clock.

De Palma won without batting an eye, taking a chew or wiping his nose.

Rab for Ralph!

BARNEY CLOSE UP.

Barney Oldfield, fighting with his Mercedes down to the last 300 yards of the race, after having been goaded into driving the tires almost off his machine, sped past the tape a good second and 1m. and 30s. behind the feeling Mercedes.

By the nineteenth lap the race had developed into a speed slaughtering duel between these two, and from then on they battled round and round the course, always in sight of each other, except when one disappeared momentarily around a turn.

Two things beat Oldfield. One was the superb generalship of De Palma. The other was costly delays in the pit. Three times, Oldfield was forced to stop for tires, gas and oil.

Never did the Mercedes falter. It swung over the entire distance as steadily as though harnessed to the solar system. As the great machine reeled off lap after lap, even the mechanics in the Mercedes pit leaned over the rail and gazed wonderingly at the performance.

Of fuel and oil De Palma had enough. His tires did not fail him, and his machine clicked off the miles with clocklike regularity from the instant that it bounded forward in

ANDERSON NOT EXCITED BUT WEPT AFTERWARDS.

ANDERSON'S chances for victory gave up the ghost during the eighteenth lap on San Vicente, where the course is by Twenty-sixth street. His engine was still going, but he was unable to make the car go. Anderson turned impulsively to the crowd and held out both hands to show that his nerves were calm and steady. "Look there," he said. "You see I am not excited."

HOW I CAPTURED THE VANDERBILT CUP RACE.

NOTATED FOR "THE TIMES" BY RALPH DE PALMA.
ON the sixth lap I knew that my car was going through the three-lap race with a perfect record. I had more speed, but I was a little stiff and I was able to push my car. I was more speed in the Grand Prix.

Monarch Cheers When First Are Made. Takes a Broken Window as a Game, and Says that He Thinks it's a Great Game.
CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Three hearty cheers and a cheer was given by the baseball fans of Chicago on his arrival today of the Chicago team. The game between the New York Yankees and the Chicago team was grouped immediately in front of the royal box, and the battle of the hurrahs immensely increased the excitement. The royal sportsman, who received the acknowledgments of the game, went to the first man up in the seventh inning, won for Chicago with a home run at the end of the ninth inning the tenth, the New York team led of two runs. This was the first time in the second half of the game, an outsider, who knocked a home run and brought in a man from the bottom of the ninth.

the pit. He wanted a wheel strapped onto the rear of his machine. The men misunderstood his instructions, thinking he wanted a box of cigars, and there was a minute of blinding chaos. By the tenth lap Oldfield had forced the yellow car back into third place. In the fourteenth he called at the pit again for a tire, gas and a new cheerer, and the penalty was fifth place for him. Gil Anderson, who had sent the Stutz into first place when Pullen was forced out in the thirteenth, surrendered this position on account of a broken propeller shaft in the eighth lap. At this point Oldfield was second. Suddenly down the stretch roared a grimy machine that had been white, but which now needed washing. The stands rose as they recognized the great De Palma. RALPH LEADS. He swept by Oldfield. Eleventh at the start, he had passed every car on the course. Steady and inexorable as the hand of fate, he had cut down the advantage of the leaders, slowly but with deadly certainty, and was now the leader himself. Howling along at more than eighty miles an hour at times, De Palma did not seem to be forcing his speed. De Palma felt none of the fire of contest. The intoxication of speed had not mounted to his brain. He wasn't racing. He had worked out a mathematical problem, and was simply proving that the answer was correct. He had measured his oil and gasoline, knew that his tires, with careful nursing, would stand up under a pace sufficient to win the race, and was simply riding around to the finish. He displayed no more emotion than a bricklayer's helper at the helm of a wheelbarrow. The next seven laps were almost a deadlock between De Palma and Oldfield. The Italian lead by a few hundred yards, and his machine would be disappearing around death curve just as the siren engine shot into the home stretch. BARNEY GAINS. The yellow car seemed to be gaining slightly, however. The sight of that tantalizing, elusive shape in front drove Oldfield to the point of desperation, and he took fearful chances at the turns. The twenty-fifth lap saw a reversal of positions. The crowd, looking up the stretch, were scanning the track for the Mercedes. What they saw was the Mercer. Oldfield had thrown the throttle wide open and passed De Palma in the last stretch. Oldfield had a lead of an eighth of a mile, and it seemed that he had the speed to win, if steel and rubber could stand the awful strain. The Mercedes had not yet stopped for gas or oil or tire change. Surely the supply of these things could not be inexhaustible. One stop, the loss of a fraction of a minute, and the race would be Oldfield's. Oldfield kept the lead for the next seven laps, but he could always feel the "black hand" at his back. Four more laps to go, fifty miles, and Oldfield leading. Suddenly there is a murmur of amazement as the great crowd peers up the stretch on a fat tire. Mechanics lunge from the pit, and pounce on the disabled car. The old tire is torn off, and the new one thrown on. On these grimy workers, not on the cowed Oldfield, depends the race. But before the change can be made, the Italian contemptuously sweeps by and is around death curve before the yellow machine is off in frantic pursuit. Barney's cheerer is cheered to a shish, and he appears worried. DE PALMA POPULAR. When De Palma leaped into the lead, he was given an ovation, indicating that our people are broad-minded, and are not particular whether a man drinks dark red, steam beer or Scotch highballs. From this on it was merely a question of whether De Palma's gas and oil would last, and his tire remain staunch to the end. On the next two laps, De Palma's mechanic signaled frantically at the men in the Mercedes pit, and on each lap the crowd expected to see the big car swing to a standstill at the siding. Clearly, someone in the Mercedes was kidding the crowd. On the thirty-fourth lap, De Palma was given the green flag, indicating that he had but one more to go. At this point, he seemed to realize for the first time that the course was lined with admiring people. Taking his hand from the wheel, he waved it all the way around the course. This gave rise to the report that he might be flirting with death, but he was merely saluting the crowd. A fat man who buys beer at Barney's place, rose up and beseeched him to subjugate the Italian. Barney shook his head sadly, but to please the obese party, leaned on the throttle until he bent it. This landed him within 200 yards of De Palma at the finish, but as the elapsed time left him more than a minute to the bad, his last spurt was really a wasted waste of good gasoline. DRIVERS PACTICE ON COURSE TODAY. The course at Santa Monica is to be open to the drivers in the Grand Prix this morning from 6:30 to 7:30. George Adair, starter of the Grand Prix race tomorrow, is to be on the course this morning and will have all the drivers report to him at the pit. There are cars entered for the Grand Prix which did not appear in the Vanderbilt; and it is for these cars that the course is to be opened today. Several Vanderbilt contenders will not be out today on account of repairs made necessary by accidents in yesterday's speed event.

not silent and watched the work of the three men in the Mercedes pit. Goodie called to Townsend and told him to cross his fingers.

"I wonder what Ralph thinks of his luck now?" called a kiddie from across in the grandstand.

"He's driving like a regular American today," countered Ralph, as he wrote the time of the last lap on the signal board.

NEAR THE END.

Starter Wagner produced the green flag.

"The end is nigh," quoth Dr. Crowder.

"Slow him down," urged a Mercedes fan across in a box.

Townsend shook his head.

"What a chance to stop that fellow," said he.

Eddie Pullen passed the pit on his way back to his wrecked Mercer.

"Congratulations, gentlemen," he offered. "Ralph's driving a little today."

"Thanks, Ed," chorused the pit attendants.

"That was hard luck, Ed," said Ralph, "but you are lucky to be walking around."

"Truth you say," laughed the pilot of the wrecked car, "but we are going to do something—like the real thing in the Grand Prix."

Dave Lewis sat back of his deserted pit with his mother. The young driver looked longingly at the cars as they rolled down the course.

His mother seemed to feel worse over the boy's misfortune than he did, but she offered words of encouragement whenever Dave was offered sympathy by friends.

VERBECK SHOWS UP.

Frank Verbeck came up in the rear of the Mercedes pit. He exchanged congratulations for sympathy.

"Yes, it was hard luck," he said; "my car was running just to suit me and I was in third place. Still it's all in the game. That's what makes auto racing a sport."

"It's great to be in the pit for De Palma," laughed a member of the Carlson camp, just as the machine had left the pit after taking on oil and water; "you have nothing to do."

The men in the Mercedes pit agreed. They gave all the credit to the driver. Still, after the race, De Palma said that the pit work was great.

Harry Grant came up to offer congratulations at the end of the thirty-fourth lap. He wore a smile and pretended to be satisfied with the showing he had made, but it's safe to say that he felt inside that the Mercedes had given him a raw deal.

The Mercer went into the last lap and the green flag was given to Barney Oldfield opened up wide and stirred with death all the way around; but the lead was too great for him.

In the twenty-sixth lap, Tom Alley, De Palma's mechanic, had given a signal which some thought meant engine trouble; but it was a call to have some oil ready in the pit in case it was needed. This was put away when the green flag was hoisted.

It was all over then. The next time he came around he was to be the winner and have a new Vanderbilt record.

CROOKED WORK.

Later in the evening, the men who had worked in De Palma's pit, confessed to some crooked work. They had given him the signal showing him in third place when he was really running second. After he had taken the lead, several times he was told on the signal board that he was in second place.

The time for each lap was given on the board at the pit. Several times two signals were used. One board would flash up the course and be seen as the car approached and the other would be faced down the course so that the mechanician could read it after he had passed the pit.

After the race, De Palma thanked the men who had served in his pit. He gave them each a dollar and a half and the Vanderbilt winner, went to their rooms and got rid of some of the dirt picked up during the race.

A Surprise.

JIMMY DUFFY BEATS WELSH.

OUTPOINTS THE BRITISH BOY WITH EASE.

Knocks Him Down in the Fifth and Has the Lead on Points All the Rest of the Fight—Welsh Led on Points the First Two Rounds. Newspaper Verdict Unanimous.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26.—Jimmy Duffy, Lockport, N. Y., clearly outpointed Freddy Welsh, lightweight champion of England, in an eight-round bout in St. Louis tonight.

Duffy started late, being outpointed in the first two rounds, but then he evened up matters in the next two and in the last four fairly smothered the clever Britisher under a shower of hard blows of every description.

In the fifth round Welsh was knocked down, but arose quickly and was cautious the remainder of the bout. Duffy kept after him the remainder of the fight, and the Englishman was glad when it was all over.

In the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds, Duffy kept right on top of Welsh, driving him around the ring under a shower of blows. The result was a general surprise.

The verdict was rendered by the newspaper men and was unanimous. The referee, Ed Randall, was not permitted to make a decision. Duffy before the fight protested against Randall, saying he would not receive a good deal, so the latter was not permitted to announce a decision.

The knockdown took a lot of the conceit out of Welsh. He was all confident and boring into Duffy, when Jimmy jolted him with a blow on the mouth with a stiff left. Welsh dropped on his haunches and bounded up like a rubber ball.

When Duffy floored Welsh, the tide turned in his favor. Welsh had no trouble getting inside of Jimmy's swings early in the mill. He was scoring regularly, while Duffy was shooting wild.

He scored as the first two rounds, while Duffy's aim was inaccurate. He missed the mark every other time. Welsh hit two for one.

In the third, Duffy improved and got in some snailing good wallop. When he missed with the left, he generally brought the right across, and vice versa. He improved with each round, and in the latter part of the fight clearly outboxed and outpunched Welsh.

For tomorrow Gleason plans on flinging up his two teams and ending them through a practice game of about six innings duration. Outside of the seven men with the world tour, Gleason has a full squad, with the exception of Hal Chase and Billy Sullivan, who have been here for ten days, is in great trim and confident that he will be back in his old stride before the season opens.

WOLVES FORCED TO PLAY SOCCER.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

MARYSVILLE, Feb. 26.—Soccer was introduced this afternoon by Capt. Wolverton in the Wolves' training camp proceeding for the benefit of the players with aching muscles and joints who were barred from over-exertion after baseball lines.

Switzer, however, the new arrival of the day included Roy Moran, Pep Young and Ralph Stroud.

BEHAN SYNDICATE QUILTS TRYING FOR CUB STOCK.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—The Behan syndicate, whose offer for the controlling stock in the Chicago Nationals was refused by Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati yesterday, has withdrawn from the field. This was announced by Louis J. Behan today after he had met his clients and discussed events of his visit to Mr. Taft.

The syndicate, he said, did not consider the stock control and franchise worth more than $500,000; under the present conditions in baseball, and believed its offer of $750,000 for a majority share of its stock much more than it would want to pay now.

The questionable legality of the reserve rule and the existence of the Federal League were made reasons for the abandonment of the Behan effort to get the stock.

Behan said he, himself, hardly believed the reserve rule would hold in court and said it might even invalidate the whole contract, so that a player could "jump" to another team right in the middle of a season, though he had signed to play that season.

To offset this threat of a loss of property, the syndicate wanted the Federal League either bought out or taken into organized baseball, thus removing a constant competitor for the service of ball players.

"The Federal League will be a great success or a complete failure this year," argued Mr. Behan. "If it is the former, it must be taken into alliance with organized ball or must be fought at a great expense for an indefinite time, with indefinite results; if it is the latter, of course, there would be no need to worry unless another 'outlaw' circuit started."

MOLLEY BILLIARD GAMES.

Both Bayne and Gould failed to appear for their scheduled game in Morley's three-cushion handicap tournament last night, and as Condon had not shown up against Gould the night before, the week ends tonight with the score sheet two tallies short. Waite and Schiff meet this evening.

PASTY DRESSING HALF OF SALAD

HAFFNER-GINGER SHOWS HOW FOOD IS SAVED.

Three Hundred Women Watch Report as the "Times" Expert Puffy Prepares Seasoning for Dressing and Appetizer—Bottled Concession Popular.

In the Times School of Domestic Science Mrs. Haffner-Ginger yesterday afternoon's lesson to 100 housewives how to make a salad.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger says that the dressing makes the salad, so the first thing in the lesson was how to make dressings for various occasions. She began with French dressing, which is for meats or fish. It is easily made and requires only simple and economical ingredients.

Bottled dressing, with which a very stable salad can be made of one or two boiled carrots and turnips, is popular for everyday use.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger showed how to use the cream until it is of the right consistency for mayonnaise dressing. The process she used a little metal wire which can be procured at any grocery store for 15 cents. She also showed how to mix the cream with a bit of yolk of egg.

A Japanese salad she made of equal parts of carrots and turnips, with a bit of yolk of egg, some green onions, and some radishes. It was mixed and garnished with a few leaves of lettuce, made a tempting salad.

An excellent salad was made of a bit of flowers in nearly every variety. It proved to be an excellent salad for the afternoon tea. The flowers of the nasturtium, with a French dressing added, was the most tasty of all her creations yesterday. She used only one onion, which she put a small amount of whipped cream and a bit of the onion in the dressing.

A macaroni salad was made by mixing watercress, parsley, peas and radishes, to which was added some of the dressing. The salad was served on a plate decorated with the flowers of the nasturtium, which were embellished with yellow. A delicious little article, served on a plate decorated with the flowers of the nasturtium, which were embellished with yellow.

A large bunch of bright yellow radishes were added to the salad.

FOR WOMEN AND MEN.
Facts, Features and Fancies.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

BEAUTY HINT: The French, the best-dressed women in the world, have a maxim regarding the selection of one's apparel. It is to wear a touch of color matching one's eyes, a touch matching one's hair and one corresponding with one's complexion. This, with the unfailing "touch of black," composes the most artistic ensemble, it is declared.

What have you decided to give up during Lent?

Several of the girls were talking about penances for the forty days forthcoming, brutally, we thought, that they all forego the discussion of others. "I don't see why!"
exclaimed Jean, "since we do not harm in such discussion. We do not really gossip, do we?" "It is not so much whether or not we gossip; but you know we do like to discuss people, and I think it would be good discipline to forego this." "What do you mean—not say anything either good or bad? What in the world could we talk about?" Rather looked as though it was time to call a halt, don't you think?

Both suggested to Evelyn that she do penance by not degrading her own qualities. "I don't understand what was Evelyn's reply to the suggestion."

"Well, you are always saying that you have a horrid disposition, or that you have a poor complexion, or that nothing looks well on you—or something of the sort, and of course we feel obliged to contradict you, and I thought it would be nice if you would omit this habit during Lent."

To say that Evelyn was angry doesn't half express it. "I would suggest," she retorted, "that during at least a part of the Lenten season, you stop saying disagreeable things! It began to look as though the Lenten penance might develop into something far from religious, but the peace-maker intervened, and asked how many were willing to give up curling their hair during Lent—and all those whose hair naturally curled answered promptly in the affirmative."

Anti-Shine.
In one of the big furniture houses on Broadway, they are offering something novel. It is a felt cushion for office chairs, the cushion composed of one very heavy thickness of felt cut to fit the chair seat and fastened by several leather straps, but fastened in such a way that it slides easily about when one moves. It is claimed that these cushions will save away with shiny clothes. They cost less than the price of having one's suit cleaned—and the shine removed—a single time.

Try Salt.
Now that oranges are so excellent and so very cheap that people are using them as easterners do apples, it is in order to suggest novel ways of eating them.

The girl from Florida asked if we ever used salt with them and she forthwith dipped her orange quarter in her dish of salt and ate with a relish which we all strove to imitate.
Ever try it?

All the Garden.
"Tout mon jardin" is the delightful name of a new potpourri which comes from a house of international fame. It seems to be in fact, as it is in name, an intermingling of all the flowers in a garden. Another wonder about this adorable potpourri is the fact that one may obtain a big glass-stoppered jar—though it fills the pads for all one's dresser

Keep Them Alive.
Our Ernest Braunton has suggested the growing of Christmas trees as a needed industry in the vicinity of Los Angeles. I would add, and please grow them in tubs to sell alive.
It has become quite popular in the East to purchase living evergreens for Christmas trees and to plant them afterward. I do dislike to see a poor fresh Facts in Alleged Plot Which Involves Mayor Wheaton of Long Beach, Rosch Grand Jury.

New evidence claimed to involve Mayor L. N. Wheaton of Long Beach and the seven other persons impleaded in the alleged plot to blackmail
Mrs. Ida Morgan, widow of "Gold Dust" Morgan, was unearthed yesterday by Attorney Dudley W. Robinson and Detective Harry Raymond and placed before Deputy District Attorney Keyes, who is handling the case.

It is claimed that one of the alleged conspirators in the blackmail plot has confessed and will lay bare to the grand jurors the asserted scheme to extort $10,000 from the wealthy widow. Deputy Constable Fisher, who is alleged to have held the gun at Mrs. Morgan's head while the famous surprise flashlight was taken of Mrs. Morgan and Orris E.
Budd, is said to be the focal point of a mass of evidence placed before the District Attorney's office, involving himself, Wheaton, Mr. and Mrs.
Budd, Constable Fisher, Everett Burroughs, Mrs. Budd's brother, Robert Litchow, William Wobig and one of two others. Telegrams and letters written by Wheaton to several of the alleged raiders and letters and telegrams received by Wheaton from Mrs. Budd and Wobig, are claimed to form the strongest links in the evidence.

Parasols of white moire have a black satin border.
The new skirts still preserve the pocket silhouette.

We still have the long sleeve of transparent material.
Serges of brilliant coloring will be fashionable this spring.

Colored tulle is being combined with the corsage bouquet.
The Medici collar is among the models that have survived.

Many taffetas are seen in low-necked, short-sleeved gowns.
The new costumes show hip puff-ings and draped open skirts.

The tailored suit is given to flare effects both in the coat and skirt.
Many of the fashionably-draped
turhans are adorned with plumes.
Busle-back skirts are noticed among the suits for young women.
Flowered tunics with plain skirts are among the new frocks.
